How long will the alcoholic have to attend A.A. meetings and associate with alcoholics? That seems to bother a lot of non-alcoholics and some alcoholics. First let us understand that as far as anyone knows today there is no cure for alcoholism. Once the individual has crossed that line which separates the alcoholic from other drinkers there is no trail back. They must spend the rest of their lives without the use of alcohol as a beverage if they want to live normal happy lives.

Therefore part of the question has been answered by the alcoholic. When he honestly and sincerely admitted he was an alcoholic he made his own choice. In fact he made it long before he admitted he was an alcoholic. The choice was made for him when alcohol made an alcoholic out of him. Seems to me then the only choice the alcoholic and his family has is— what kind of alcoholic does he want to associate with? The dry alcoholic or the wet alcoholic?

The alcoholic who has come into A.A. has again made a choice. He prefers to spend his time with the kind of people he finds in A.A. He knows them and they know him because he has been associating with them while he was drinking. He enjoyed their company in bars, cocktail lounges and saloons. He and they had a common purpose there. Now, in A.A., he and they find another common purpose. This time the purpose of remaining sober on an all time basis. He did not, nor does he have to, change his society, he only changes the place where he wishes to meet and associate with them.

How long he will be in A.A. or how much he will put into A.A. will depend on how much he needs out of it. He will receive only in proportion to what he gives. No matter how much time and energy he uses up in A.A., no matter how much he is away from home, the most radical A.A. in the world has a happier home life and his family is better off that the best wet alcoholic in the world.

The best advice I can offer to the non-alcoholic members of the family is leave him alone, let him run his course. He may go on an A.A. binge, he may get so honest that it's painful; he may start out to tell you that your spiritual life is all wrong; he may go off on any one of several tangents. But remember this, that sooner or late r he will find the middle of the road. Remember also that he is starting out on a new way of lif e and a lot of the road is uncharted for him. He will make you mad, irritated and resentful, but look around at the older members and you will realize that it worked for them. Most of them went through the same experiences. So too it will work for him. Don't worry about how long he will have to do A.A. work because therein lies your and his salvation.

Came to believe that a Power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.

The action part of this step is "Came to believe". Because I already had faith in a Higher Power, this was an easy step for me. But if I didn't? What if my life hadn't seemed to provide me with any evidence for faith? This step would probably have been difficult. What is faith? How does one come to believe?

In one sense, faith is another form of expectation. People with faith can expect that their Higher Power will work in their life in the way that is best for them. Said another way, people with faith inherently trust that their Higher Power wants what is best for them. They expect that if it's good for them and aligns with what their Higher Power has in store for them, then it shall come to pass.

Of course, every prayer has three answers: "yes", "no", and "ask again later".

But if I didn't have faith, if I didn't expect I would get what is best for me, what should I have done with the Second Step? I think my best course of action would have been to take a watch-and-see attitude. I should have gone ahead and worked my program as if a Higher Power will give me what is best for me. I still could have gone ahead and remained neutral with those expectations. Maybe it would work. Maybe it wouldn't. But I ought to have given it a fair shake, by being willing to entertain the idea that it could work. Who knows what the future holds?

Within the rooms of A.A., one often hears that people without some sort of faith "came to believe" after a while. The watch-and-see attitude turns into a trusting attitude. The follow up to "came to believe" is "… a Power greater than ourselves …."

I do think that everyone has a concept of a Power greater than themselves. A really old joke I heard was attributed to Richard Pryor: "When you are running down the street with your hair on fire, you don't cry out to Bank of America!" To me, this says that at a fundamental level, everyone still has the concept of a Power greater than themselves. Whether I have a friendly relationship, an active dislike, or tell myself a Power greater than myself doesn't exist, when emergency response kicks in, my mind will reach out to something greater than myself.

The second part of the Second Step is "... could restore us to sanity".

I had tried to stop drinking on my own, before showing up in A.A. I tried numerous times; each time with a shorter duration of being able to remain dry. I never felt so demoralized as that moment when I realized that not only could I not stop this time, but all the previous failures to stop were solid evidence that I couldn't stop, ever.

Apparently, I was broken.

I did not know how to fix myself. I knew that I needed fixing. But there was an insurmountable gulf between my need and my ability. This was not something I had encountered before – at least for something that mattered. It didn't just matter a little bit, either. This was a matter of life and death.

If all my actions come from this mind of mine – then my mind was broken. Later, when reading the Second Step, I had no problem accepting that I had lost my sanity.

In computers, we sometimes do what is called a "sanity check". Essentially, when we program a computer to do something, well we have to check the results, because it's a machine. It has no intelligence. If the task is to program the computer how to add two numbers, the sanity check is telling it to add 2 + 2, and verifying that the answer it gives back is indeed 4. (With sloppy programming, sometimes the answer isn't. 2 + 2 = puppies might be cute, but my bank isn't going to be happy with the resulting deposit.)

449 E. MAPLE STREET - EXETER, CA 93221

For our group purpose there is but one ultimate authority — a loving God as He may express Himself in our group conscience. Our leaders are but trusted servants; they do not govern. My first experience with this tradition was when my home group suspended a couple of members for being disruptive during meetings. I was around two years sober at the time and had yet to attend a business meeting. I was none too happy about this, but had just enough sense to wait until the next business meeting before expressing my displeasure. Thank God I had a sponsor that would go through each tradition with me before I moved on to the next step.

To further complicate matters the group conscience of the business meeting covers all twenty weekly meetings. The debate was pretty heated, a vote was taken, the members were reinstated, a lot of feathers were ruffled. It's kind of funny now; neither of the individuals attend meetings at this location any longer.

Lesson learned. I now attend almost every business meeting of my two home groups. Ironically, my other home group is a tradition study.

My views on this tradition have evolved, probably as my giant ego has softened. Just as I needed a higher power to restore me to sanity the groups conscience relies on a loving God as expressed through its collective members. In AA there is no coercive human authority because each member has a sensitive and responsive conscience and alcohol will discipline him/ her if a slip occurs we have little need for the man made rules or regulations. Despite the fact groups veer off at times and the conscience of the group will prove a far more infallible guide than the decision of any individual member however wise it may seem. We need not depend on inspired leaders because our leadership of service can be rotating. We enjoy a kind of democracy that is truly unique. How cool is that.

Happy New Year

Hope everyone is doing well in this second week of the year so far. I just want to start by saying thank you to everyone who was a part of our New Year's Eve event for 2018.

Thank you to those who attended, and I hope you enjoyed our slightly different format this year. Thank you to the decorating crew, we whipped that out in under an hour. Thank you to Stella and her sweet daughter for setting up and selling the sodas this year. Stella is always of service at the picnic, and NYE event selling sodas. I really appreciate it Stella, your efforts do not go un-noticed.

Thank you to Keith for purchasing the sodas and delivering them to Lindsay. Keith was working that day, took a break, and bought and delivered sodas to Lindsay, went to Fresno for a job, then made it back to Lindsay that evening for the event. That makes me tired just writing it. Thank you Keith. Oh, and he also worked New Year's Day. Dang.

Thank you John W. for coming to help with whatever was needed that day, no questions asked. John has been attending these events for as long as I have been around, and I appreciate his service every year. BBQ guy, cleaning up afterward, decorating, getting ice, whatever we need, he is there.

Thank you Brent for being the M/C and Auctioneer. Our bake sale brought in $1600.00, what a generous outcome from all AA members. Thank you to those who brought items to be auctioned. Some people brought one item (like myself, I ran out of energy to do more) and others brought 5 and 6 items in total. Greatly appreciated. The Viagra cookies were a hit again. HA Gotta make it interesting. And for the two Vanna's, Kenneth and Bill, you guys were a great help. Thank you Tim Mannix for putting on a fabulous magician/comedy show. He brought people up on stage, which made it even more fun. He told Shirley her part was a non - speaking part. Hilarious. Our own Tom from Visalia with 90 days of sobriety was a great sport, and participated in the act also.

Kane C. from Santa Clarita did a fabulous job. I am so glad I am old and can't remember anything. I have heard Kane several times before, but it was like the first time hearing his story again. His wife Karen was just so gracious and friendly. We had a scheduling conflict with our first speaker which was Wayne B. Then I booked David M. from Los Angeles, and he was unable to attend due to work. He asked Kane to be his sub, and I did not have to do anything. Come to find out later that David is having some medical difficulties also, so if everyone could say a prayer for him, and his quick recovery, that would be wonderful. Third time was a charm with the speaker, Kane's message had us in the front row in tears. Good tears, not bad. Thank you to Billy from Fresno for taping our speaker, and also bringing Karaoke for the first time to our NYE event. Only around 10-12 people stayed for karaoke, but I can tell you, it made the whole night for me. Melissa W. was the only one with guts to get up there, then our own Bill S. from Porterville followed. After that it was the women against the men, hilarious. Of course the women were so much better. HA I said I would not get up there for a million dollars, and I did it anyway. It was a blast. Have not received my check yet.

Thank you Bob for always selling tickets and keeping track of all the income for the night. Bake sale, sodas, 50/50, tickets sold, it is a lot, and we appreciate you making sure it all comes out correctly.

Thank you Susan and Rose for selling 50/50, great job. Even though I did not win, great job.

Thank you Marcie for taking care of the coffee all night long. Can't have an AA event without lots of coffee, great job.

Thank you to everyone that donated money for raffle prizes. I have AA members every year give me money so I can spent it. HA We don't use any of our Central Office funds for that, this is all separate donations. I give the receipts to Bob and he has them on file at the office, if anyone would like to see where their hard earned money was spent. I received $1280.00 this year, and it was a lot of fun shopping. I am overwhelmed every year by the kindness and generosity of everyone.

Ok, I think that is it, I sure hope I did not forget anyone, and if I did, thank you, thank you, thank you.

On another subject, we are having elections in February at the Central Office Meeting for three board members. The date is February 12th. We had some unusual events occur at our December board meeting during the elections. One member was nominated and was not present. I have never had that happen before in all the time I have been attending meetings, or been on the board. We did not add his name to the list because he was not there. It was brought to our attention that we did not do that correctly, and we are looking into that. Also there were three positions open and only three people nominated. In a foresight, I just figured we did not need to vote since three and three was it. I again was incorrect on that, and we are correcting the situation with another election in February. I want to apologize for the mistakes, and assure everyone that they were done out of lack of experience in the situation, and not any malicious intent toward the office, or the board. I do make mistakes frequently, and appreciate when people speak up to help me.

The requirements to be on the board are two years of sobriety, and you do not have to be a CSR to run. There is one, one year position to be filled, and two, two year positions. The seat on the board is a two year commitment, but sometimes people have to leave for other reasons, is why there is one, one year term.

We had some nominations in January, and will have more in February, and elections that night. Would love to see as many people as possible there. We are just trusted servants on the board, and do the best job we can.

Thanks,

Julie M.

Advice to my nephew...

Here's what I told my nephew when he was going into the Navy -

You need to know that you have a pedigree, that is, a predisposition to become an addict or an alcoholic, because it's on both sides of your family, and it does run in families.

Sometimes it skips a generation, but it's still there.

Some people can have one or two drinks and it's not a problem, but if you're drinking more than that, it can only get worse. If you can't stop when you want to or if you're drinking and getting into trouble, those are 'red flags'

If it causes problems at work or at home, you're better off not drinking at all; because if you put poison in your body, it awakens 'the beast' and it never goes away.

Some people who don't have an actual drinking problem will still have the 'personality' of an alcoholic; "I know everything, I'm always right, my way or the highway."

Their children are prone to having a problem with alcohol, too.

The best thing you can do is avoid that stuff; don't even touch it.

It's also a good idea not to hang around with people who are drinking or 'using' because you end up doing what our friends are doing.

And forchrisake don't drink & drive; that's an invitation for trouble !

Lighter Side of AA

WE ARE NOT A GLUM LOT

Alcoholic One Liners

Math Teacher: "If I have 5 bottles in one hand and 6 in the other hand, what do I have?" Student: "A drinking problem."

What's the difference of deer nuts and beer nuts? Beer nuts are a $1.75, but deer nut are under a buck.

A termite walks into a bar and says, "Where is the bar tender?"

Three conspiracy theorists walk into a bar. You can't tell me that's just a coincidence!

When The Hulk goes off into a vicious rage and destroys everything, he's "Incredible." But when I do it, I'm "an alcoholic."

Cop: "Have you been out drinking?" Me: "Uh yeah, I'm 28, I've been out drinking literally hundreds of times."

I screamed at my neighbor, "What on earth are you doing on our roof!"

He screamed back, "I saw you at the bar, and you said the drinks were on the house!"

I just read an article about the dangers of drinking that scared the crap out of me. That's it. No more reading!

"Your finest Scotch, please." "Yes, sir," the guy at Staples says as he hands me a 12 year old roll of tape.

Everyone has their own path, fortunately mine leads to the liquor store.

How do you get 30 drunk Canadians out of the pool? "Please get out of the pool."

I used to drink all brands of beer. Now, I am older Budweiser!

Raising children takes a village, preferably one with many vineyards.

There are drunk bikers. There are old bikers. There are NO old, drunk bikers.

My girlfriend told me to go out and get something that makes her look sexy... so I got drunk.

The speed of light is when you take out a bottle of beer out of the fridge before the light comes on.

Son, when I was your age there was no social media. You had to go to a bar and buy endless drinks to be ignored by multiple women.

I liked beer so much that my family didn't know I drank until they saw me sober!
